

Looking for the best summer job of your life?

application
deadline
March 7, 2018

job benefits

- Earn a paycheck every two weeks
- Get community service hours
- Receive a paid transportation pass
- Work with a diverse group of people
- Prepare for college & future jobs
- Backpack shares of vegetables to take home most weeks

job requirements

- Work on farms in the city & suburbs
- Serve at hunger relief organizations
- Participate in workshops about the food system & social justice issues
- Work Monday–Friday during the seven-week summer season
- Must be 14–17 years old apply to seed crew today!

thefoodproject.org/seedcrew

Questions? Email
seedcrew@thefoodproject.org

The Food Project

A Snapshot of Seed Crew

Mornings on the Farm

The mornings are all about farm work! Each year, The Food Project grows over 200,000 pounds of produce on our urban and suburban farms. Seed Crew plays a huge part during the summer by preparing beds, weeding, planting, and harvesting the produce.

Afternoons in Workshops

Seed Crew workers engage with each other around issues of inequity. In afternoon workshops, such as “Level the Playing Field” and “Gender and Sexism Awareness,” youth are encouraged to speak up, try on other points of view, and disagree—all in an environment of love and respect.

Wednesdays in Service

Wednesdays in Seed Crew focus on community service. Seed Crew workers make a real-time impact on the food system by bringing the produce they helped grow to hunger relief organizations and serving meals to neighbors who experience food insecurity. Seed Crew workers see the first-hand impact of their work and play a direct role in bridging the gap between who has access to fresh, healthy food.

The Food Project

