Cambridge Community Center Middle School Program • After School Activities

What's in a day at CCC Inspires?

School lets out and kids are dropped off by bus at the Center or picked up from their school. When they arrive they have a healthy snack and join their group for homework and "chill" time. At 4:30 they transition into their special activities for the day...

Green Program

Kids in this group use our 500 sq.ft. of organic growing space. They learn to plant seeds, cultivate the gardens, and harvest their own food, and create healthy dishes. This course is run by Amelia Joselow, experienced gardening and co-manager of the Cambridge Winter Farmers Market.

STEM Workshop

Every student in the Inspires program participates in the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math Workshop, which is led by Yoael, a Center graduate and Current MIT student. He teaches them and inspires them to achieve academically and go to college wherever they desire.

Sports or Cheering/Dance

Fridays the sports group has it's competitions, usually held here in our renovated full-size gymnasium. Cheering/dance is taught by Sayi, Kabongo, another group leader with 8+ experience. Students in this group get fun exercise, learn dance routines, and learn to work as a team.

M

Girls Group or Boys Group

This group gives girls a safe space to discuss issues they face at home, in school, and in their personal lives. They also take educational trips to places like Novartis Labs. The group is led by Yvonne Gittens, fondly known as "Miss G", who has over 30 years experience.

T

Kids' Choice

On Tuesdays kids get free time to explore their own interests and come up with and pursue their own ideas and activities under the guidance of their group leader.

W

Sports

Our sports program offers children the opportunity to compete inter-murally against other youth centers in Cambridge. Sports give children the opportunity to develop their skills as well as encourages teamwork and sportsmanship.
