

KING SCHOOL UPDATES: NOVEMBER 8TH

---

We would like to thank our students, families, and parents for two very exciting events last week:

Saturday's Marionette Show: The Dragon King

"The Dragon King" marionette show was a tremendous success! We sold over 100 tickets for the performances. All proceeds will benefit our King Parent Group student activities fund! Special thanks to Wendy, Bethany, Jose, and all the parent volunteers!

Friday's Character Day 2011!

Students and teachers in grades 3-5 truly made their favorite book character come alive for a day! It was quite a treat to hear our students speak so eloquently through their literary character's voice.

There are several important upcoming events:

No School this Friday, November 11th

There is no school for Veteran's Day.

Innovation Agenda: Triad Meeting, Monday, November 14th

The King-Kennedy/Longfellow-Morse Schools will meet next Monday in the King Library from 6PM to 8PM to brainstorm outreach activities for our students in preparation for the middle grades merger.

Parent Conferences, Wednesday, November 16th

Parent conferences are next Wednesday from 2PM-6:30PM. Please check with your teacher for individual conference sign-ups.

District Early Release Day, Thursday, November 17th

School will be dismissed at 1:55PM next Thursday as one of the five district early release days for teacher professional development.
